

THE GRENADA SENTINEL.

VOLUME LXXI.

GRENADA, MISSISSIPPI, FRIDAY, JANUARY 18, 1924.

NUMBER 35.

"LID" WILL BE CLAMPED DOWN TIGHT SUNDAY

Mayor Tatum Issues Orders to Enforce State and City Laws Relative to Sunday Closing. Means Grenada Will Be Tight as a Drum. No Groceries, Fruits, Drinks, Etc., Will Be Sold if Strict Letter of Law is Observed. Certain Things May Be Sold.

Mayor S. T. Tatum has issued orders to Marshal W. A. McLeod to notify all places of business in Grenada that the lid will go on Sunday and that the state and municipal laws regarding Sunday closing will be enforced to the letter. This means that Grenadians will not be able to purchase groceries, fruits, soft drinks, cigars, cigarettes, tobacco, or anything whatsoever except that that drug stores may sell medicines and garages, meat markets and ice houses may stay open for business.

The laws have been on the statute books for years and at various and sundry times they have been enforced for a few Sundays in succession. Then the authorities became a little lax and business again resumed its usual Sabbath course. What will be the result this time cannot be foretold. But Mayor Tatum says that the law will be enforced just as long as he stays in the Mayor's office. So Grenadians had better make their purchases on Saturdays from now on and not run the risk of being unable to purchase what they want on the Sabbath day.

The state law upon which Mayor Tatum bases his authority in this matter is found in the Mississippi Code of 1906, Section 1367, and is as follows:

"Sabbath: merchants, other than druggists, not to open stores, etc.—

A merchant, shopkeeper, or other person shall not keep open store or dispose of any wares or merchandise, goods or chattels on Sunday or sell or barter the same; and every person so offending shall, on conviction, be fined not more than twenty dollars for every such offense; but this shall not apply to apothecaries or druggists who may open their stores for the sale of medicines."

The section of the city code relative to Sunday selling may be found in Chapter XX, Section 1, Paragraph 52 and is as follows:

"Penalty—It shall be unlawful to do or to cause to be done within the corporate limits of the city of Grenada any of the following acts. Any person or persons violating the same shall, upon conviction, be fined in any sum, not exceeding two hundred dollars, or imprisoned in the county jail not exceeding ninety days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

"(52) Sabbath day—To sell any commodity within the city limits or to keep open a place of business for such purpose except such sales and places of business as are allowed under the statutes of the state."

Section 1366, chapter 28, code of 1906, was amended Oct. 12, 1917, by Chapter 25, Senate bill No. 50, and exempts livery stables, garages and gasoline stations, meat markets and ice houses.

ANDERSON-BAILEY

Coffeetown, Miss., Jan. 15.—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nathaniel Bailey of Coffeetown announce the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth to Lawrence Desaix Anderson of Sumner, Miss., the wedding to take place in the late winter.

A CORRECTION

In last week's issue of The Sentinel, in chronicling the death of Mr. John Gattis at Holcomb, it was erroneously stated that he was survived by his father, Mr. E. J. Gattis. The senior Mr. Gattis died about two and one-half months ago and his death was not known to this paper until this week. Hence the mistake in last week's paper.

Mr. John Gattis, whose death was noted in last week's paper, leaves a wife and seven children. He carried no insurance, did not own his home and left them in dire circumstances. The good people of Holcomb are making efforts to see that they are comfortably cared for.

LEGISLATURE NEWS LETTER

By Dennis Murphree

The first week of the legislative session of 1924 has passed into history.

Nothing has been accomplished during this week except the organization of the two branches, the election of the different officers and employees and in the Senate the selection of Committees.

In the House Thos. L. Bailey, eight year member from Lauderdale Co., and Chairman of the Appropriations Committee last session, was elected Speaker without opposition.

In the Senate R. L. Brown, newspaper man from Sumner, and Secretary of the Mississippi Press Association, was elected Secretary of the Senate on the first ballot over two worthy opponents. Mr. Brown is my warm personal friend and was my campaign manager during the campaign last summer.

Mrs. W. F. Marshall of Union County, who has been Librarian for the state for the past eight years, was re-elected Librarian over a field of five opponents.

Miss Carrie Oliver of Hazlehurst, former Senate Postmistress was elected Postmistress for the two houses.

Committee assignments for the various Senators were announced by Governor Casteel on Wednesday. These assignments were made by me and Governor Casteel was indeed kind to me to announce them. I made diligent inquiry into the qualifications of every man who was elected to the Senate and have devoted quite a bit of study to this question, because on the Committees depend the success of the legislative program. Naturally, I will have made mistakes in these appointments, but so far I have failed to find them, and I am well pleased with the list as finally announced. Too, the Senators themselves seem to be satisfied with their different assignments.

Speaker Bailey is working hard on his committee lists and expects to announce them next week. It is a fearful task to work out and I feel for him, because while I had 49 men to assign, he has one hundred and thirty-nine and therefore his task is thereby great.

I have served through seven legislative sessions in the Mississippi Legislature, and this is the fourth new legislature I have seen convene in Jackson. With all due regard and respect to those legislatures who have before gathered here, I sincerely feel that in ability and intelligence the present legislature, like the name of Ben Adhem, leads all the rest. There are more men of former legislative experience in this legislature than any I have before served with, and there are more solid settled men who have made their own way and who know the value of a dollar and who realize the situation of their state.

I may be wrong, but in my opinion the fellow who comes to the capitol this year seeking extravagant appropriations for useless enterprises, will find a body of men who are going to be exceedingly hard to convince of the merits of his scheme. I am gratified to find existent in the minds of a great many of the members a determination to so arrange the financial business of the state that the tax burdens will be more equitably distributed than before. I hear freely expressed by members the conviction that the property of the state that is in sight, that is the lands and the other things that can be easily found are being heavily taxed, while other things and other folks who enjoy all of the rights and benefits of the government of the state and the institutions are getting by without helping very much to maintain them.

I am gratified too, to find that the people of the state are awake and demanding these changes. I receive many letters from friends over the state telling of their problems along this line. As an illustration of how the ladies of the state are awake to the situation, I received today a letter from one of the most intelligent women of the state who lives in Washington County, and without giving her name, I am taking the liberty to quote a part of it. She says:

"I know men with far greater incomes than mine, who pay only a poll tax, and yet I pay on my land nearly four thousand dollars a year. I know women who are not taxed but who have incomes from bonds far in excess of the worth of my lands. They advise me to sell my land and put the money in non-taxable securities. The lands are burdened. I know people who do not pay tax on a suite of furniture, yet who have as much say about roads and other bonds, as land owners, and who own cars to use on the roads. So put a tax on gasoline and make them help pay for these things."

Whether or not the present legislature is going to be able to do all that they desire to do, or to accomplish what the folks of the state are expecting of them remains to be seen, but it is my sincere opinion that they are going to strive earnestly and mightily toward that end.

The inauguration of Governor Whitfield will take place on Tuesday, Jan. 22nd. I will be sworn in along with the other state officials on Monday, January 21st.

Great preparations is being made for the inauguration, bands from several places, three companies of state militia, students from the Woman's College, the Normal College, and other Colleges are going to be here along with representatives of numerous other organizations. I hope to see a great many of my friends here on that date.

CLUB WORK FOR 1924.

Club work among the boys and girls is recognized as a definite factor in both the educational and economic development of the rural community.

This work has been carried on for a number of years with varying success. Perhaps more boys and girls completed projects in 1923 than in any previous year. Notwithstanding this fact, only about 40% of those enrolled completed the work. This was not altogether the fault of the agents and the boys and girls. Both parents and teachers failed to do some of the things, the responsibility of which can fall on no one else.

No boy or girl should endeavor to carry on the work without the full endorsement of his parents. Neither can he do his best work without the suggestions and help from the teacher. There is a tendency, when conditions are not altogether flattering, for him to become discouraged. The enthusiastic parent or teacher can easily reep up some "pep."

Not every boy or girl who does club work can win a prize. This is one of the strong points in the work. These prizes go to those who have done the best, encouraging them, and at the same time teaching the other fellow how to be a good loser. He must learn that some time in life. The boy who said the other day that he failed to win a prize last year but that he wanted to see the color of the boy's eye who beat him this time, had the right spirit. He will be a winner. There was another boy who said he failed to win anything last year and so he guessed he would not try any more. He is preparing himself a hard place to fall.

One girl and two boys won trips to Chicago last year. The educational value of such a trip cannot be estimated in Dollars and Cents. The donors of these trips which, in this instance, were the I. C. R. R. and the North Miss. Fair Association see an investment in young womanhood and young manhood where the principal and a high rate of interest will be paid in a broadminded citizenship. After all, the community is only as big as the citizenship composing it.

At least 80% of the boys and girls now on the farm must finally look to agriculture as a means of livelihood. Why not give them proper assistance in the educational work that will best fit them for the things they are to do in after life?

bonds far in excess of the worth of my lands. They advise me to sell my land and put the money in non-taxable securities. The lands are burdened. GRENADA TRUST & BANKING CO. HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

Year 1923 Most Satisfactory of All Since Organization. Bank Has Paid 294 Per Cent to Shareholders and Has Built Up Large Surplus Account. Declare 29 Per cent Dividend. Officers Re-elected.

On last Thursday, Jan. 10, the stockholders and directors of the Grenada Trust & Banking Co., held their annual meeting in Grenada. The reports of the officers submitted at the meeting showed that the year 1923, viewed from every angle, was by far the best and most satisfactory the bank has enjoyed since its organization in 1903.

A net profit was made during the year of 33 1/2% from which the handsome dividend of 29% was paid to shareholders, 24% being the regular dividend and 5% being a special dividend. This is one of the few banks in the state that pay such large dividends and the stockholders are well pleased with the splendid returns from their original investment. Since organization, the Grenada Trust & Banking Co., has paid 294% in dividends to its stockholders and at the same time has created a surplus fund of more than one and one-half times its capital. While it has shown no remarkable growth in any one year, its expansion has been steady and each year has seen its resources mount higher and higher until today it is regarded as one of the safest and strongest banks in the state. The bank's motto or slogan is "Safety First" which it keeps ever in mind. The care and strict policies followed in granting loans is known to every depositor who feels that his money is in safe hands when deposited with Grenada Trust & Banking Co. The officers are conservative and cautious and every effort is made to safeguard the interests of the depositors as well as of the stockholders.

Mr. H. J. Ray, the president, who has been with the bank since its organization, is one of Grenada County's best citizens and is not only a level-headed business man but is a leader in the religious activities of his church; he can always be counted on to identify himself with the right side of any question. He keeps at all times in intimate touch with the affairs of the institution whose destinies are largely in his hands and it would indeed be a difficult task to find one who could fill his place. Mr. W. K. Huffington, the cashier, has been with the bank for the past ten years starting in when a mere youth as bookkeeper. Since his connection with the bank, he has familiarized himself with every detail of the business and his knowledge of financial affairs and problems is nothing short of remarkable. He is regarded as being one of the town's most responsible and trustworthy young men and the directors should congratulate themselves, as they no doubt do, on his connection with the bank.

Without a dissenting vote, Mr. Ray was re-elected president. Mr. Cowles Horton vice-president and Mr. Huffington, cashier, to serve another year while the following board of directors was named: H. J. Ray, Cowles Horton, Claud Hall, Dr. B. S. Dudley, W. F. Martin, Dr. J. P. Broadstreet, R. H. Stokes, J. J. Hardy, A. Gerard and R. Doak, and Miss Tommy Hamilton, who has been serving as bookkeeper in a highly satisfactory manner, was retained.

"PHENOMENAL GROWTH IN PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

"That the First Presbyterian church of Gainesville is enjoying a phenomenal growth became apparent Sunday morning when 48 persons were publicly accepted into the church at the morning services by the pastor, Rev. J. R. Cunningham.

"The 48 persons represented the church's growth during the past quarter, ending January 1, T. I. McIntosh, clerk of the session stated.

"Since Rev. Cunningham assumed the pastorate of the church during September a total of 80 persons have joined the church. The new pastor is drawing large congregations at all the services and is proving unusually popular among the University students."

The above clipping, taken from the Gainesville, (Fla.) Daily Sun, should interest Grenadians who will always be deeply interested in Mr. Cunningham's success, wherever he should go.

FIFTY NAMES DRAWN FROM JURY BOX

From the names placed in the jury box by the Board of Supervisors, the list of which was published in The Sentinel several weeks ago, the sheriff, circuit clerk and chancery clerk have drawn the names of fifty of the qualified electors of Grenada County to serve as grand and petit jurors during the term of Circuit court which convenes in Grenada on Monday, January 28, Judge Thos. L. Lamb, of Eupora, presiding. From these fifty, it is hoped to secure a grand jury of twenty members and two petit juries of twelve each. SHORT CROPS BUT HIGH PRICE VALUE

By
D. A. McCANDLISS
Agricultural Statistician
Div. Crop and Livestock Estimates,
Bureau of Agricultural Economics
U. S. Department of Agriculture.

In spite of bad weather Mississippi raised around 194 million dollars worth of crops in 1923. While this is less than last year's crop value, it is more than that of 1913, 1914, 1915, 1920, or 1921, and is about the same as in 1916. This information is furnished by D. A. McCandliss, statistician in this state for the U. S. Department of Agriculture. In comparison with Mississippi's 194 million dollar crop Louisiana's total crop value was 161 millions; Tennessee and Arkansas each about 208 millions; Florida 70 millions; Virginia 186 millions; Alabama 227 millions; and Georgia 236 millions.

Although the cotton acreage was large, and more fertilizer was used than ever before, the Mississippi cotton crop was the smallest since the Civil War, because of extremely unfavorable weather throughout the season. Notwithstanding this, only four other cotton crops in the history of the state have brought in as much money as the 1923 crop, because of the high prices paid this year. The crop this season will bring Mississippi farmers around 114 million dollars, including the value of the seed. Unfortunately the crop was very uneven, so that the money is not evenly distributed over the state; many cotton planters sustained serious losses.

Short acreage and low yields combined to cut the corn crop in this state to only about 34 million bushels, as compared with 57 million bushels in 1921. The value of this crop, however, is about 36 million dollars, while the 1921 crop was worth only about 32 millions.

This season's hay crop is the largest in the history of the state, being around 641 thousand tons, valued at nearly 10 million dollars. This helped to meet the feed shortage to a certain extent.

The sweet potato acreage was reduced this year, but yields were fairly good, and the total crop was around 10 million bushels, worth about 9 million dollars. Fewer potatoes, but higher value than last year.

TIPS FOR TAXPAYERS

In the making of his 1923 income-tax return the business man, professional man, and farmer may deduct from gross income all items properly attributable to business expenses. In the case of a storekeeper they include amounts spent for rent of his place of business, advertising, premiums for insurance against fire or other losses, the cost of water, light, and heat used in his place of business, drayage and freight bills, the cost of repairs and maintenance to delivery wagons and trucks, and a reasonable allowance for salaries of employees. A professional man, lawyer, doctor, or dentist may deduct the cost of supplies used in his profession, expenses paid in the operation and repair of an automobile used in making professional calls, dues to professional societies, subscriptions to professional journals, office rent, cost of light, heat, and water used in his office, and the hire of office assistants. The farmer may deduct amounts paid in the production and harvesting of his crops, cost of seed and fertilizer used, cost of minor repairs to farm buildings (other than the dwelling), and cost of small tools used up in the course of a year or two.

In computing his net income for the year 1923 a taxpayer may deduct from gross income all losses, incurred not only in his business, trade or profession, but in any "transaction entered into for profit" not compensated for by insurance or otherwise.

To be allowed, losses not incurred in trade or business must conform closely to the wording of the statute. For example, a loss incurred in the sale of a taxpayer's home, which at the time of purchase was bought without intention of resale, is not deductible because it was not a transaction into for profit.

Losses sustained in the operation of a farm as a business venture are deductible. If sustained in the operation of a farm operated merely for the pleasure or convenience of the taxpayer, such losses are not deductible.

If you are single and support in your home one or more relatives over whom you exercise family control, you are the head of a family and entitled, in your income-tax return for the year 1923, to the same exemptions granted a married person. These are $2,500 if the net income was $5,000 or less and $2,000 if the net income was more than $5,000. In addition the head of a family may claim a $400 credit for each person dependent upon him for chief support if such person is under 18 years of age or incapable of self-support because mentally or physically defective.

For example, a son supports in his home an aged mother, and two sisters 14 and 16 years of age. His net income for 1923 was $3,000. He is entitled to an exemption of $2,500 plus a $400 credit for each dependent, a total of $3,700. While he pays no tax, he must file a return, because his net income was in excess of $1,000.

An exemption as the head of a family can be claimed by only one member of a household.

In making out his income-tax return for the year 1923 the business man, professional man, and farmer will be required to use Form 1040, regardless of whether his net income was or was not in excess of $5,000. The smaller form, 1040A, is used for reporting net income of $5,000 or less derived chiefly from salary or wages.

All items of gross income must be reported. In the case of a storekeeper gross income usually consists of the gross profits on sales, together with income from other sources. The return must show the gross sales, purchases, and cost of goods sold.

The professional man, lawyer, doctor, dentist, must include all fees and other compensation for professional services. The farmer must report as gross income the proceeds of sale or exchange of products raised on the farm and the profits from the sale of products purchased by him and resold. He must also report gross income from all other sources.

Taxpayers, in order to take full advantage of the deductions to which they are entitled, are advised to study carefully the instructions on the forms under the head "Income from business or profession."

Every single person whose net income for the year 1923 was $1,000 or more or whose gross income was $5,000 or more, and every married couple (living together) whose net income was $2,000 or more or whose gross income was $5,000 or more, must file an income-tax return.

Broadly speaking, gross income is all income received by the taxpayer during the year from salary or wages, business, trade, profession or vocation, dealing in property, interest, rent, or dividends, or from the transaction of any business carried on for profit. Net income is gross income, less certain specified deductions for business expenses, bad debts, taxes, etc. The exemptions are $1,000 for single persons, $2,500 for married couples (living together) whose net income for 1923 was $5,000 or less, and $2,000 for married couples whose net income was in excess of $5,000. An additional credit of $400 is allowed for each person (other than husband or wife) dependent upon the taxpayer for chief support if such person is under 18 years of age or incapable of self-support because physically or mentally defective.

The normal tax is 4 per cent on the first $4,000 of net income in excess of the exemptions and credits and 8 per cent on the remaining net income.

FORD SEES BIG BUSINESS FOR 1924.

By Edsel B. Ford, President of the Ford Motor Company.

Even though 1923 exceeded all our expectations, there is every reason to believe that in 1924 business will attain to far greater proportions.

More people will buy automobiles during the coming year than ever before. Evidence of our belief in this is the extensive expansion program we are now carrying out and which is aimed to effect new manufacturing economies and materially increase production. So, in the new year, we will produce more cars and trucks and confidently expect to sell more of them, both in the domestic and foreign fields.

There was a time when figures conjured up by statisticians to show sales possibilities, replacement requirements and such were guide posts in the industry, and when much time was devoted to discussing sales resistance. These to a great extent have all served their purpose. They were a part of the educational campaign necessary not only to salesmen but to the public. They are passing out just as the phantom of Saturation has disappeared from the automobile horizon.

Today America is completely sold on the automobile.

Women are a greater influence in the automobile buying field than ever before and the coming year will see this influence considerably extended. It will be expressed particularly in the closed car sales, for it is natural for women to turn to this more comfortable means of motoring.

Women, you know, though their guardianship of the family purse have become remarkably good judges of values and their knowledge in this respect now extends as much to automobiles as to anything else.

While a wealthy woman may be able to afford a finer car than one of more moderate means, each will exercise the same careful scrutiny of value when she comes to make selection.

It follows, therefore, that the manufacturer who gives the greatest value for the lowest investment must certainly enjoy the greatest share of the business. And to maintain this business he must continually incorporate better quality into his product for the public is motor wise and transportation value is going to count most this year.

A SHORT STORY

Which has the Added Merit of Being a True One.

A very few years ago, two neglected little boys were hangers on at one of our army camps. One of them had bad eyes, the trouble being congenital cataract. A kindly surgeon operated upon the eyes, and the child was placed in the hospital to stay until he was well. Restless under the restriction, and too young to realize the vital importance of strict obedience to orders, he tossed about until the bandages were displaced and his sight almost blotted out. The army camp was moved or abandoned and the two little boys became charges on the community, a sort of public nuisance as it were. Finally some one became interested, took the case into the courts, and the two boys were sent to the Mississippi Industrial and Training School at Columbia.

What could a blind boy do there even if he had been adjudged delinquent under the law? That is a busy place, boys study, and work, and play, every moment is occupied from early morn to dowy eve. For weeks the boy groped about, and always his pathetic question was "Am I ever going to see?" Sometimes from the depths of his despair he would say to the teachers who were trying to help "I'd rather die than to stay blind; if you all can't get my eyes well, I think I will kill myself."

Soon arrangements were made for him to go to the Blind Institute in Jackson. Nothing mattered to him. He could not see, but he went. What happened there is another chapter in the story.

He came back to the Mississippi Industrial and Training School for vacation the following summer, a transformed boy. The poor eyes were no better but he had learned to make brooms and mops! Eagerly he talked to the Superintendent about the immense importance of the industry, urgently he demanded that it be introduced into the school. From the first of June through August and into July, he insisted that the machinery for making brooms and mops be provided. He got up figures to show the immense number of each used there and the saving the manufacture of them would be to the institution, and cannily he showed up the industry as a character developer. Wholly in sympathy with the boy, and half convinced of the economic value of the scheme, the authorities purchased the machinery. Delightfully the boy chose two other boys to train as helpers, and he with them went to work.

A careful auditing of the figures proves that in six weeks this blind boy with his helpers had saved the institution enough money to pay for the machinery. Now the making of brooms and mops is an established industry at Mississippi Industrial and Training School.

After a second session at the Blind Institute, the boy came back with another contribution to the development of the school. He could make mattresses. The comparatively simple equipment was purchased and set up. Again he demonstrated his ability, and when he returned to the Blind Institute in September last, piles of new and remade mattresses were left behind, as an evidence of his skill.

May the boy live long and usefully as he has begun. May the two institutions which made his career, and all others like them, flourish. May Mississippi grow and wax valiant in their support.

ROADS MAINTAINED BY COUNTY COOPERATION

One Solution of Keeping Highway in Condition

Counties in Wisconsin took over the maintenance of their roads on May 1, 1918. The State commissioner established nine divisions in the States, each having about eight counties. A resident engineer is in charge of each division, under him a corps of assistants, who maintain, mark, and sign their territory, visit the patrolmen twice a month, and report each visit by card to the main office. In 1922 the commission at Madison received reports of 10,940 visits. Three members of the county board supervise road work, and a county highway commissioner is also elected to have charge of all road construction and maintenance work in his county.

The patrolmen enter into written contracts with the county and put up a $500 bond as guarantee of service and good care of tools and machinery furnished by the county.

Wisconsin has both team patrol and motor truck or tractor patrol. For the team patrol the patrolmen furnish a team and wagon, and the county furnishes a light-blade grader, a road plane, a plow, a slip scraper, and other necessary small tools. On the motor patrols all equipment is furnished by the county. Sections cared for by team patrols average six and three-quarters mile, and the patrolmen work from April first to December first for $140-$165 per month. Between December first and April first patrolmen agree to work when requested, at a fixed price per hour. Motor truck and tractor patrols cost the counties on the average about $110 per month each.

The Wisconsin system is the result of investigations which the commission carried on in other States regarding satisfactory systems of road maintenance, and for practical methods of improving ordinary town roads which had heretofore been under the care of a township director with wide territory, limited time, and more limited money. Wisconsin's total mileage on all classes of highways is 78,000. When the county maintenance work was commenced, 255 miles were concrete, 1,775 miles stone macadam, 15,670 gravel, and 60,300 miles earth. Under the county maintenance system, each county owns much of its own road maintaining equipment, and enjoys better roads with less expenditure of time and money. Many improvements have been originated by township votes.

YOUR TIME.

Doctors notice a steady increase in the number of men who break down between 40 and 50, when they should be in their prime. Breakdown comes three ways, physically, mentally or in the ability to forge ahead and reap the benefits of past effort. Why do so many men break down prematurely? The answer is partly that civilization is constantly becoming more complex with each year bringing more and more demands on the individual's spare time. Each year it becomes harder for a man to earn a good living for himself and family. He goes through his work day at high nervous tension speeded up giving his last ounce of strength. This is particularly true of men who work their brains. Father goes home at night, fagged out. What he needs to keep him fit and help nature recuperate his exhausted cells, is complete relaxation with plenty of fresh air and little noise. But so called "social duties" crowd in. Father finds he is expected to dress up and go calling on friends. Or maybe it's to a movie, or to lodge. Or to a meeting of some committee on which he is serving as fifth assistant deputy peanut inspector. And so on. Before he realizes, it's around midnight when he yawns into bed, exhausted with an hour or two less for sleep than he should have. A man can stand this for a while. But in a matter of years even a strong constitution begins cracking under the strain. Too many social duties. Too much gadding about. Too little leisure time devoted to relaxation and rest. The candle has been kept burning at both ends. Father weakens, falters, fags out prematurely.—Paducah (Ky.) News-Democrat.

THE MINNOW FLEET

Came a sound of children's voices
In the woodland's morning hush,
As I picked a path uncertain
Through the shoreline underbrush.

I, by nature, am inquiring,
And I stole down just to see
What new game they had invented,
Blest with such hilarity.

Through the veil of brookside verdure
Flasher a picture sweet to view;
Little children "catchin' minnies,"
As in youth I used to do.

On the shore stood Old Dog Faithful
In the water, children three,
Too intent to be diverted
By a vagabond like me.

With a net devised of gunny,
Bound to broomsticks, strong and firm,
They held fast each finny captive,
Left them naught to do squirm.

Like wild horses in the desert,
Shiners sped to get away,
But the minnow fleet pursued them
As a pirate hunts his prey.

In the eager, earnest faces
Of the minnow fleet I found
Just the thing to start reflections,
Memory-blest and boyhood-bound.

Soon, I, too, was "catchin' minnies"
Down a sweet elusive stream;
Caught them with a net of fancy
In a brook called Childhood Dream!

A PRAYER BY MR. WANAMAKER

Offered in Brotherhood Meeting, February 10, 1907.

Blessed Saviour, Thou has taught us to forgive our brother, not once, not even seven times, but until seventy times seven. We therefore this morning, and now, ask Thee, our Father, to forgive this sin, which he has confessed before Thee and us, and which seems to bear heavily upon him. Lord, put it away. Blot it out forever. Cover it with the blood of Thy cross. And, O Father, we ask Thee to pardon all our sins. We may not feel them as heavily as this man does, but we, too, need Thy forgiveness. Many of us are hasty, nervous disposition, and say things and do things, against our fellow-man, against our brother, which are hurtful and wrong. O God, forgive us. Make us considerate. Make us thoughtful. May we try and keep ever before our mind Thy word which tells us to love our neighbor and to good to those who despitefully use us. Help us in all our doings this day. Go with us as we go up to the Sanctuary. May there be no silent hearts in Thy house. Fill us with a great joy and a great light. Strengthen and help us out of Zion and grant that we may go through the week until we meet again, with love in our hearts towards Thyself. For the Redeemer's sake we ask it. Amen.

This prayer was offered in behalf of one of the Brotherhood men who publicly acknowledged having done something during the week which he felt to be wrong.—Selected.

DRIVE TO STOP DRIVES

An editorial in Saturday's issue of the Daily News suggesting that Jackson give serious consideration to the Community Chest plan of raising funds for various forms of charity and community effort, brought forth an instantaneous chorus of approval from all parts of the city.

Numerous telephone messages reached the editorial room Saturday afternoon expressing endorsement of the suggestion, and it is evident that the public mind in Jackson is ready for a drive to stop drives, and the adoption of a more business-like method of raising funds and dealing with worthy causes.

The poor are here—they must be provided for, but in many cases they are being injured by charity more than they are being benefited. It would be better to let a few suffer than to pauperize large numbers of our population—rob them of their self respect and lead them to the opinion that the world owes them a living.

The problem of providing for those who fail to make provisions for themselves is not new—it existed in the day of Christ, and even He became a little impatient on one occasion when one of his disciples complained that the spikenard which Mary poured upon the Master was washed. He turned to the disciples and said in mild reproof, "The poor ye have with you always."

The average person does not publish to the world the obligations which he has to meet. He does not tell of the things he does to help others because he loves to do them, and it is annoying to him to be accosted on every hand by a solicitor and told of what he should give and how he should give it.

The Red Cross, the Community Welfare Association, the Salvation Army, the Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, the Kings Daughters, the Young Men's Christian Association, the Travelers Aid Society, and the several other organizations which have for their purpose the uplift of the fallen, the care of the helpless, and the general betterment of humanity, are undoubtedly doing a good work. Their efforts are overlapping, however, and the constant demand for money is becoming a bugbear to the business man and the business woman.

If each person could know definitely on the first day of January what he would be asked to pay during the year, if he could be allowed to estimate exactly what he could give and could feel that no woman would approach him to buy a ticket or to take a pin or to invest in a forget-me-not or a poppy during the year, we feel sure that the average business man and business woman would gladly make out a check on the first day of the year and send to the community chest, from which the funds could be allotted.

Is it possible that there can be so much poverty in this country as we are led to believe by our earnest workers? This condition might exist in England where unemployment exists, to an alarming extent, and in War-torn France and Belgium and Germany, but in America where business interests are clamoring for the immigration laws to be relaxed that more laborers may be admitted, it is passing strange that there are so many who cannot provide for themselves.

If so much money is necessary for the work, we must give it, but let's have a community chest and do away with drives of every kind. Let's make an effective drive on drives. —Jackson Daily News.

What the Daily News so well states has been the Sentinel's idea for more than a year. We believe the repeated "drives" have tended to dwarf the better benevolent spirit of many people.

COUNTRY OPPORTUNITIES

Some young men rush off to the cities claiming there is no satisfactory business opportunity in the country towns. If they are not interested in farming, they may say that the chances offered to them in rural business are not big enough to satisfy them.

Young men who take that attitude must be ignorant of the fact that many men are making a large success in country town enterprises to-day. Many country stores, by liberal advertising, have built up a trade extending far beyond their own town and county. They draw automobile visitors from a radius of many miles. The country store can do business at less expense relatively than stores in large cities, hence it is in a position to make low prices. If it will tell the public about those low prices, it will find that it can draw a trade a long distance.

The young man who is anxious to succeed in business should not lightly pass over the chances offered in such enterprises. A good many men, after making a success in one store, have bought out others in the same line in other towns, and have built up groups and chains of such enterprises.

Probably in the future there will be more manufacturing in country districts than there has been in the past. Labor costs are high in the cities, owing to high cost living conditions. Many firms have made a success by closing their city factories, and going into some country districts, where their help could live less expensively, and hence be better off with lower wages than is paid under the expensive conditions of large city life.

The young man who keeps his eyes open can find plenty of business opportunities in the rural districts. He must expect to work hard, but he will have to do that anywhere to make good.

PUBLIC SCHOOL EXPENSES

A special election was held in Gulfport, Miss., last Tuesday to decide whether an additional tax of three and one-half mills should be ordered for the support of the city's public schools. The schools of Gulfport enjoy an excellent rating and Gulfport citizens are proud of them. When it developed that the expenditures budgeted for the current school year would exceed the available school revenues, the proposal to increase the local tax for schools was put forward, seemingly with full confidence that it would be readily accepted.

But opposition arose. It was led, we gather, by some of the Gulfport citizens rated among the most loyal supporters of the public school system. Public meetings to discuss the question were held just preceding the election. The school trustees and their supporters presented the case for the tax increase, pleading against any reduction of the expenses budgeted for the year. Opponents of the additional levy submitted their arguments against it, suggesting that school expenses might be reduced by economies which would not impair the efficiency of the system.

The vote polled Tuesday was larger, the Gulfport Herald reports, than has ever before been polled in that city "on such a question." The tax increase was defeated by a majority of more than two to one. Gulfport's people, if they are to be judged by their record of school support, cannot fairly be accused either of hostility or of illiberality to their public schools. Their vote, viewed from this distance, seems rather to be a protest against a piling up of school expense deemed unnecessary and due in some measure to overelaboration of the system. The election result for that reason is of more than local interest and significance.

Money can be spent without limit upon elaboration and ornamentation of local school systems. Lavish expenditures upon those lines win unstinted praise from faddists in and outside of educational circles. But there are limits to the bearable volume of taxation. Prudent educators should not suffer their zeal for educational progress, genuine or so-called, to outrun their practical common sense and impose a "breaking strain" upon the taxpaying community's ability to bear, or cheerful readiness to support public education. Economical administration of school revenues, with careful regard to the fundamentals thereof, will insure a solid and steady progress. A too lavish outlay of school money upon fads and non-essentials may on the contrary provoke protest and lead to setbacks. —N. O. Times-Picayune.

HOW DIFFICULTIES VANISH

A man who recently took a very long automobile journey, remarked on how the difficulties of such a trip seem to vanish when one actually meets them. Some motorists before starting on such a trip, he said would worry for fear they would have trouble on this or that stretch of bad roads or difficult conditions they had been told about.

Yet when he gets to those sections, he remarked, the tourist finds that after all they are merely roads that are being used every day by the people of those sections, who can tell him how to go, and how to meet any difficulties and needs, if such arise on the way.

So it is in all kinds of human experiences. The majority of difficulties that people think obstruct their path, are imaginary. But even if they see real difficulties ahead, people fail to realize that by the time they confront those situations, they will have learned how to meet them. They will have new resources of experience that will enable them to grapple with the new problems.

Thus a great many people fail to reach the fruitions of life of which they are easily capable, because they lack the faith to trust in their own powers and possibilities.

The men who become great leaders may not have been at the start much greater than the boys they grew up with. But they had more faith. They went ahead, trusting that intelligence and light would come as needed. Gradually they became more expert, not always from greater ability, but because they were constantly being trained by their experiences, so they were able to meet bigger problems.

ARE WE LAYING UP TREASURES AT THE RIGHT PLACE?

Arthur Brisbane, perhaps the most widely quoted editor in the country at the present time, says, "Now glory and religion give away to business and industry." Which correctly construed, means that the people are forgetting the command of God to "lay up treasures in heaven where moth and rust doth not corrupt and where thieves do not break through and steal", but rather are undertaking to lay up treasures on earth where moth and rust do corrupt and where thieves do steal.

If we are to believe what Mooney of the Commercial Appeal, Morris of the News Scimitar and other noted writers, as well as speakers, of the country say, money was never before so nearly the standard by which the usefulness and success of men are measured as today. If this be true, and we believe it is, we are flying in the face of the Biblical statement. "The love of money is the root of all evil."

Too many of us are asleep at the switch. Too many of us submit to the clamor of the maddening throng rather than run the risk of the opprobrium that our protest might bring upon us. We readily discuss the evils and troubles of the countries of Europe, but fail to see the need of sweeping around our own doors in our county and state. Too many of us try to ease our consciences with contributions while failing to give ourselves. We are ready "to put up" but are willing to "let George" carry on the Savior's work.

The forces for good and for the propagation of the gospel of Jesus Christ were never before so active, but they never before had such a stupendous job. Too much of the world is drunk with egotism and with self-sufficiency. We "go somewhere" to ease our minds rather than to seek the fellowship of those endeavoring to carry on the work of God.

There can be no doubt about the final triumph of the cause of Christ but each and every one of us ought to want to have a part in bringing about that triumph. Good predominates in 95 per cent of humanity, but what is needed is to arouse that good; dormancy never vanquished anything. The soldier asleep at his post is no protection against an advancing foe.

Let us ask ourselves if we are laying up treasures at the right place?

THE ART OF SPENDING

The General Federation of Women's clubs is promoting a practical home economics campaign. It feels that to promote culture and good citizenship, people must learn to use their incomes more judiciously.

It wants to teach the women to manage the home purse more wisely. A prize has been offered by the president of the National cash register company for the best 10 suggestions as to how to teach more efficient spending in schools.

The old timers used to bring up children and give them a good education on incomes that would be considered poverty stricken to-day, even if prices were back to pre-war figures. It is just as much of an art to spend money as it is to make it. Among the economy methods that should be suggested is to watch the newspaper advertising.

ONLY REASON WHY HE WOULD LIVE IT OVER.

Senator A. H. Colquitt of Georgia, in making a public address on one occasion in his home state, said that he had had many honors heaped upon him. That he had been a brigadier general, the Governor of his state and was then a United States Senator, but that there was but one thing that could make him want to live his life over again, and that was that he might be kinder and more thoughtful of his mother and father and other loved ones at home. How many thousands of others look back to the sweet days around the old family fireside and feel the pangs of sorrow and regret that they were not kinder and more thoughtful at home in their childhood? Young men, young ladies, boys and girls, will you try to profit by what this great Georgia Senator said?

$100,000 PEACE PLAN PRIZE AWARDED GET AT THE CAUSE.

Advocates Entering World Court and Cooperation With League Without Full Membership at Present—Suggests League Membership Be Opened to All Nations and Provides for Development of International Law.

The American Peace Award brought forth 22,165 plans and many thousands of letters. Since many of the plans were the composite work of organizations, universities, etc., a single plan often represented the views of hundreds or thousands of individuals. The content of these plans is therefore an index of the true feeling and judgment of hundreds of thousands of American citizens.

These plans come from every group in American life. Some are obviously from lifelong students of history and international law. Some are from persons who have studied little, but who have themselves seen and felt the horror of war—or who are even now living out its tragedy.

But among them all are these dominant currents: that, if war is honestly to be prevented, there must be a face-about on the part of the nations in their attitude toward it; that by some progressive agreement the manufacture and purchase of the munitions of war must be limited or stopped; that while no political mechanism alone will insure cooperation among the nations, there must be some machinery of cooperation if the will to cooperate is to be made effective; that mutual counsel among the nations is the real hope for bringing about the disavowal of war by the open avowal of its real causes and open discussion of them; and finally that there must be some means of settling, recording, interpreting and developing the law of nations.

Statement of Jury of Award

The Jury of Award realizes that there is no one approach to world peace, and that it is necessary to recognize not merely political but also psychological and economic factors.

The only possible pathway to international agreement with reference to these complicated and difficult factors is through mutual counsel and cooperation which the plan selected contemplates. It is therefore the unanimous opinion of the Jury that of the 22,165 plans submitted, Plan Number 1469 is "the best practicable plan by which the United States may cooperate with other nations to achieve and preserve the peace of the world."

It is the unanimous hope of the Jury that the first fruit of the mutual counsel and cooperation among the nations which will result from the adoption of the plan selected will be a general prohibition of the manufacture and sale of all materials of war.

The Question to Be Voted Upon

The substantial provisions which constitute the plan selected by the Jury of Award, and upon which the vote of the American people is asked, are hereby submitted by the Policy Committee as follows:

I. ENTER THE PERMANENT COURT

That the United States adhere to the Permanent Court of International Justice for the reasons and under the conditions stated by Secretary Hughes and President Harding in February, 1923.

II. COOPERATE WITH THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS, WITHOUT FULL MEMBERSHIP AT PRESENT

That without becoming a member of the League of Nations as at present constituted, the United States Government should extend its present cooperation with the League and propose participation in the work of its Assembly and Council, under the following conditions and reservations:

Safeguarding of Monroe Doctrine

1. The United States accepts the League of Nations as an instrument of mutual counsel, but it will assume no obligation to interfere with political questions of policy or internal administration of any foreign state.

In setting its efforts with those of other States for the preservation of peace and the promotion of the common welfare, the United States insists upon the safeguarding of the Monroe Doctrine and does not abandon its traditional attitude concerning American independence of the Old World and does not consent to submit its long established policy concerning questions regarded by it as purely American to the recommendation or decision of other Powers.

No Military or Economic Force

2. That the only kind of compulsion which nations can freely engage to apply to each other in the name of Peace is that which arises from conference, from moral judgment, from full publicity, and from the power of public opinion.

The United States would assume no obligations under Article X in its present form, or under Article XVI in its present form in the Covenant, or in its amended form as now proposed, unless in any particular case Congress has authorized such action.

The United States proposes that Articles X and XVI be either dropped altogether or so amended and changed as to eliminate any suggestion of a general agreement to use coercion for obtaining conformity to the pledges of the Covenant.

No Obligations Under Versailles Treaty

3. That the United States will accept no responsibilities under the Treaty of Versailles unless in any particular case Congress has authorized such action.

League Open to All Nations

4. The United States Government proposes that Article I of the Covenant be construed and applied, or, if necessary, redrafted, so that admission to the League shall be assured to any self-governing State that wishes to join and that receives the favorable vote of two-thirds of the Assembly.

Development of International Law

5. As a condition of its participation in the work and councils of the League, the United States asks that the Assembly and Council consent—or obtain authority—to begin collaboration for the revision and development of international law, employing for this purpose the aid of a commission of jurists. This Commission would be directed to formulate anew existing rules of the law of nations, to reconcile divergent opinions, to consider points hitherto inadequately provided for but vital to the maintenance of international justice, and in general to define the social rights and duties of States. The recommendations of the Commission would be presented from time to time, in proper form for consideration, to the Assembly as to a recommending if not a law-making body.

Author's Name Not to Be Revealed Until After Referendum

In order that the vote may be taken solely upon the merits of the plan, the Policy Committee, with the acquiescence of Mr. Bok, has decided not to disclose the authorship of the plan until after the referendum. The identity is unknown to the members of the Jury of Award and the Policy Committee, except one delegated member.

The Advice of a Resident of This Locality Shows a Way.

There's nothing more annoying than kidney weakness or inability to properly control the kidney secretions. Night and day alike, the sufferer is tormented and what with the burning and scalding, the attendant backache, headache and dizziness, life is indeed a burden. Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys—have brought peace and comfort to many Grenada people. Profit by this Greenwood resident's experience:

Mrs. W. E. Terry, 821 S. Main St., Greenwood, Miss., says: "I have been bothered with weak kidneys ever since I was a small child. I had severe backaches and suffered with dizzy headaches, which made me sick. After using Doan's Pills for the trouble, I was a well woman again. My health is fine and my kidneys act properly now."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mrs. Terry had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

FACTORY HOLDS KEY TO SALES

Dodge Brothers Cite Quality Production as Reason for Achievement of One Million Record.

There is one factory, at least, in which there is no dispute between sales and production executives as to the relative importance of their departments.

Ask anyone of authority in the sales department of Dodge Brothers, Detroit, which is more important—the job of manufacturing or the job of selling—and you will get an immediate, emphatic answer:

"In our business, manufacturing, by all means."

Ever since Dodge Brothers turned out their first motor car, back in 1914, and even before that time, when Dodge Brothers were building parts for other manufacturers, major stress has always been placed on the building of the product, rather than the selling.

"Build it well and it will sell itself," was their cardinal doctrine.

Dodge Brothers believed that a product could not survive long unless it was conscientiously built—that the public would always prefer fundamental merit to superficial glamor; that a car with a real reputation for goodness would always find a healthy market, regardless of the whims of fashion.

The fact that Dodge Brothers have now built and sold more than 1,000,000 cars, seems to bear out this contention in an emphatic way. The million mark was reached December 13, 1923—just 9 years and 11 days after the first Dodge Brothers Motor Car left the factory.

Officials explain that this remarkable record is due to the fact that there never has been an "off year" in Dodge Brothers history. Demand has always enjoyed a steady increase. The public, recognizing the merit of the car, sought it so persistently that the factory was forced to establish a world's record in quantity production.

And yet, with all their expansion, from 50 and 100 a day to a present plant capacity of 1,000 they have never for a moment lost sight of the original ideal. Quality still has preference over quantity.

CARD OF THANKS

We are deeply grateful to those who were so deeply thoughtful and considerate in their ministrations during our grief over the loss of our dear wife, mother, sister and daughter. All of you have a place in our hearts that time cannot erase and we pray that our Heavenly Father will reward each one of you.

Respectfully,

W. M. Horton and family.

666 quickly relieves Colds, Fever and Grippe, Constipation, and Biliousness and Headaches.

The importunities of damage suit lawyers and their agents are described in an article in the January number of the Illinois Central Magazine. An employee of the Illinois Central who suffered the loss of both legs in an accident found that they began coming the day after the accident and that every sort of cajolery and solicitation was used to influence him to bring suit for damages. All kinds of personal attentions were lavished on him up to the time he made a satisfactory settlement of his claim against the company without having recourse to the courts. Then the interest in him fell off as suddenly as it had begun.

DODGE BROTHERS TYPE-B SEDAN

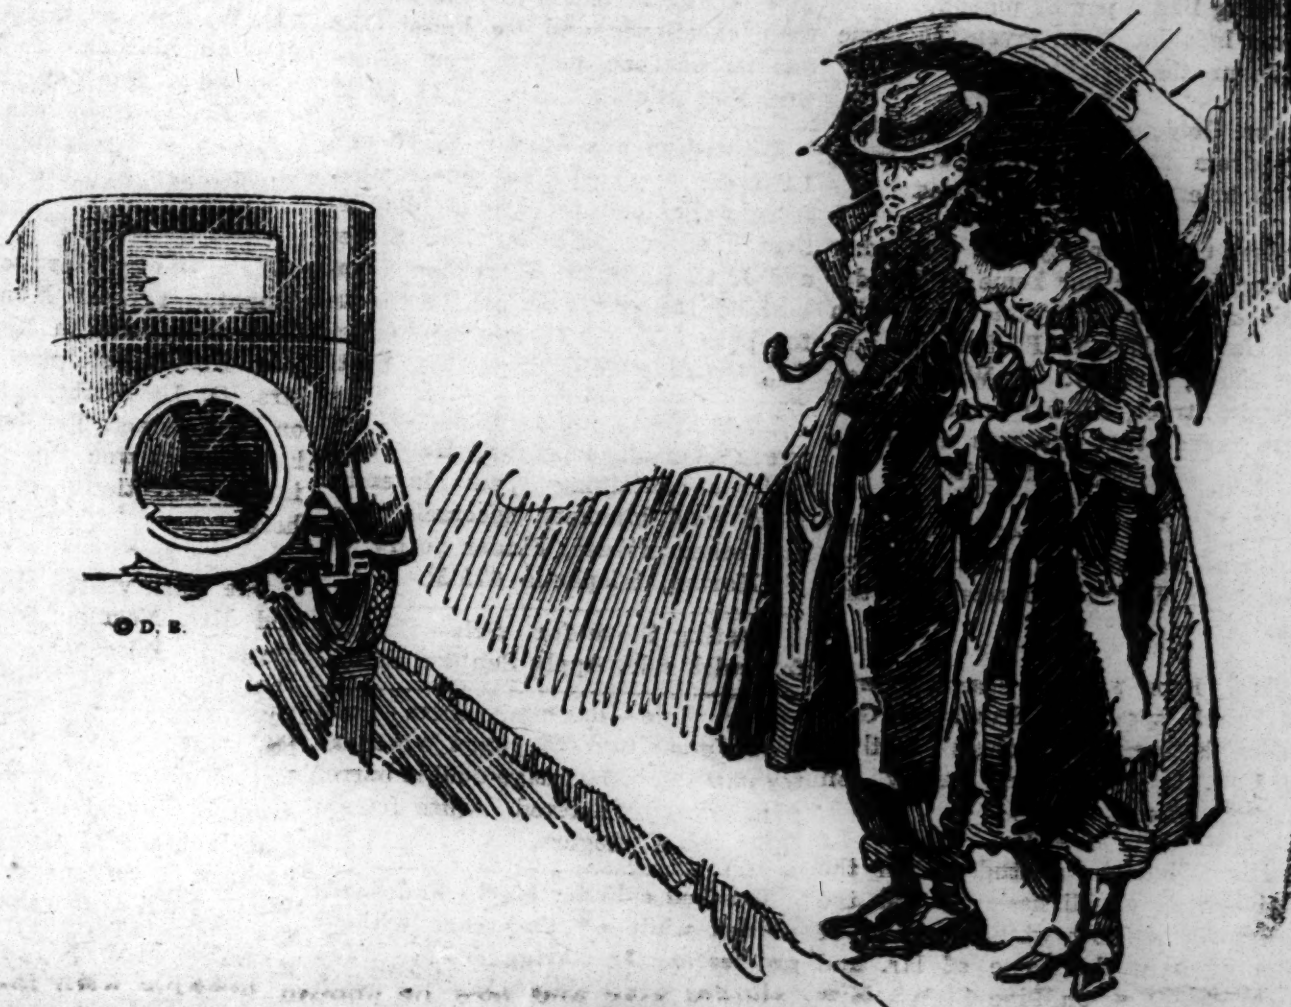

To the admirable sturdiness and all-year protection of this Sedan, Dodge Brothers have added refinements which further enhance its value and desirability.

The car is long and low, with deep seats and abundant leg room. New springs—under-slung in the rear—add immeasurably to the comfort of riding.

With these and other notable improvements, the Type-B Sedan will distinctly appeal to those who demand beauty as well as utility in the car they drive.

The price is $1250 f. o. b. Detroit—$1400 Delivered

A Quarter of a Century Ago In Grenada.

From Files of The Grenada Sentinel

Messrs. Walter and George Yeager, of Yeager, Miss., were in the city several days, prospecting for a location, on which they propose to erect a brick building, to be used as a livery stable.

Mr. Clarence Beadles and Miss Clyde Bryant two of Coffeeville's most popular citizens, were married on last Tuesday.

The semi-annual election for officers of the Lewis Epworth League was held Sunday evening, with the following result: Pres. Miss Estelle Rollins; First Vice Pres. Miss Daisy Dye; Second Vice Pres. Miss Ione Pette; Third Vice Pres. Miss Hattie Neblett; Sec. Mr. J. C. Wilson, Treas. Mrs. J. C. Wilson; Librarian Mrs. W. A. Kincaid.

Rose-Koonce—At the residence of Mr. Thos. Weir, six miles of Grenada, Jan. 11th, 1899, Mr. J. M. Rose and Miss Willie Lee Koonce were married by Rev. T. B. Williamson. Mr. Rose is a young man of high, moral character, and one of our most prosperous young farmers. His bride of whom he is so proud, is of a good family and will doubtless be unto him a helpmate indeed. They have the best wishes of many relations and friends. T. B. W.

MRS. W. M. HORTON IS DEAD.

After an illness from pneumonia of a little over a week's duration, Mrs. W. M. Horton breathed her last at 4:30 o'clock last Friday morning, her death occurring at her home near Hazerway. The funeral services were held the next day at the residence after which interment was had in the family cemetery near Torrancia, the services being conducted by Rev. W. E. Farr, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Grenada.

Mrs. Horton was 48 years of age. She had long ago united with the Baptist Church, her membership being in the church at Grenada. She was a devout Christian woman, a devoted wife, a loving mother and derived her greatest joy in life from making their home life comfortable and pleasant for her husband and her children. She was genuinely thoughtful of others and those who knew her best loved her best.

Besides her husband, she is survived by three grown sons, a twelve year old daughter, her mother, Mrs. Ellen Traylor, three sisters and other relatives to all of whom The Sentinel tenders condolence.

RAY PERRY NAMED STATE BANK EXAMINER

It gives The Sentinel pleasure at all times to chronicle the success of any of the citizens residing in Grenada County and especially so when that success is deserved. In naming Mr. Ray Perry as one of the six state bank examiners to work under him, this paper feels that Mr. J. F. Love, the new superintendent of the state banking department, could not have made a wiser selection of a man to fill this responsible position. Mr. Perry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Perry, finer people than whom can be found nowhere. He is a graduate of the Grenada High School and received his college training at Mississippi College at Clinton. For several years he has been in the employ of the Grenada Bank system and has discharged his duties with great credit to himself and eminently satisfactorily to his superiors. That he will fill acceptably and well his new position none who know him have any doubt.

Mr. Perry left Monday for Jackson, his headquarters, to take up his duties. The Sentinel extends congratulations on his promotion.

STOKES KIMBROUGH WINS PRIZE IN LETTER CONTEST

In the national letter contest on "Nothing Takes the Place of Leather" Stokes Kimbrough, a Grenada young man, was awarded one of the 118 prizes offered by the American Sole and Belting Leather Tanners of New York. There were approximately 44,000 to submit letters in the contest from every state in the union and from many foreign countries. The judges were Frederick C. Hicks, president of the University of Cincinnati, Miss Martha E. Dodson, associate editor of the Ladies Home Journal, and Fraser N. Moffat, president of the Tanners Council of America.

Mr. Kimbrough should feel elated over submitting a prize-winning letter among so many contestants.

MRS. G. W. GRANTHAM IS DEAD

From the walks of life a good woman has gone in the person of Mrs. G. W. Grantham who passed away on Jan. 5th, 1924. For many years she had lived with her daughter, Mrs. T. P. Grantham, in Grenada and it was there that her death occurred.

Mrs. Grantham was born in South Carolina in 1839, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Nations. In 1848 her parents moved to Vaiden, Miss., and it was there that she was buried, her pastor, Rev. W. E. Farr, of the First Baptist Church, conducting the services.

She was married in 1857 to Mr. John Wilson and to the union was born two daughters, both of whom survive her, Mrs. T. P. Grantham, of Grenada, and Mrs. G. W. Maxwell, of California. Her first husband died in 1862 and in 1888 she was married to Mr. G. W. Grantham, who preceded her to the grave by nearly thirty years.

She became a member of the Baptist Church in 1857 and all these years has been a faithful and true member. In her modest way, she was always found doing her christian duty and her years of experience was ripe with sweet influences.

To the sorrowing relatives, The Sentinel extends its sympathy.

BEAT 3 WANTS SEPARATE ROAD DISTRICT.

Acting upon request contained in a petition submitted by W. J. Jennings, Jr., et al, the Board of Supervisors has ordered an election to be held at the various voting precincts in Beat 3 on Saturday, Jan. 26, to determine whether or not a separate road district shall be formed of that beat. The three precincts in district three are Mt. Nebo, Kirkman and Spears and it is at these places that the ballots will be cast.

If this election should carry in favor of the separate road district, it will mean that all of the supervisor's districts in Grenada County have voted to form separate road districts with the exception of District 2. Should the election favor the separation, Beat 2 will automatically be formed into a separate road district whether the electors residing therein will it so or not.

GRENADA SEES LATE MOTION PICTURES

Grenada moviegoers have good reason to congratulate themselves on being able to see first run pictures almost every night at the Grenada Opera House. Pictures are shown in many instances before they are exhibited in Memphis and Jackson and seldom are they shown more than two or three weeks later. It used to be the custom in the smaller towns to make them wait sometimes a year or two before letting them have the films but now one may see pictures in Grenada before the city folks get to view them. For instance Tom Mix in "Soft Boiled," which was shown here last week is playing in Memphis this week; "Red Lights" may be seen in Memphis and Grenada both this week; "Penrod & Sam," shown last week in Memphis, is on this week's program at Grenada Opera House; "If Winter Comes," featured in Memphis last week, is booked as one of the local attractions next week.

Many more could be cited but these few would indicate the promptness with which the local theatre secures the releases.

CONTRIBUTES ONLY POEM TO OUTLOOK

The only poem published in the Christmas number of The Outlook was contributed by Miss Minna May Smith, who lived in Grenada for two years with Miss Ella R. Hurd, while the latter was voice teacher at Grenada College, and who is so pleasantly remembered by many here.

Miss Smith, who is at present living in Chicago while attending Chicago University, has contributed to the Smart Set magazine as well as a number of the smaller publications.

$105 WAITING FOR SIX FORTUNATE PEOPLE

Nobody seems to want to take all the money that was to be given away by the twenty-eight Grenada business concerns who co-operated during last year to distribute $2000 among their friends and customers. There are still six awards unclaimed from the Christmas distribution and if the holders of the following numbers will present their tickets to receive the amounts noted:

101273, 698497 and 190429 each $25.
789153, 203312 and 519716 each $10.

WOMEN ORGANIZE FOR LAW ENFORCEMENT EDUCATION

Starkville, Miss Jan. 16.—The great National organizations of women with a constituency of millions of members have affiliated to concentrate in 1924 on a program of education for enforcement of law. The Federation of Women's Clubs, Federations of Church Women, the Young Woman's Christian Association, Parent-Teacher Association, King's Daughters and patriotic and educational groups promoting this educational program have passed resolutions in their delegated bodies for such enforcement. Special stress at present is placed on the prohibition law, the front today on which the battle against lawlessness is to be fought. In the interest of this mass movement of women, Mrs. Florence Ewell Atkins, a speaker of international reputation, will tour this state under the auspices of the Mississippi Woman's Christian Temperance Union. She will speak before organized groups of women on citizenship and law enforcement.

In reporting the addresses of Mrs. Atkins, the press has said:

"Her charm and magnetism are difficult to describe."

"Mrs. Atkins is a gifted daughter of Dixie."

"She is a remarkably polished, magnetic and cultured speaker."

"She speaks with an eloquence of soul that is irresistible."

Ex United States Senator W. R. Webb says of Mrs. Atkins:

"Her talk was just such as a cultured, Christian woman makes in her own charming home to her family and visitors. It was a thing of beauty and a joy forever in the picture gallery of memory."

DR. LOSEY TO GIVE FOUR DRAMATIC LECTURES

Dr. Frederick D. Losey, of New York City, dramatic lecturer and entertainer will visit Grenada on January 30-31 and will give two lectures daily, 11 a. m. and 4 p. m., at the high school auditorium. Dr. Losey was here last year under the auspices of the Grenada College and the Grenada High School and the two have joined again this year to have him back. On his former visit to Grenada, Dr. Losey's lectures pleased all who heard him and all are eagerly awaiting another opportunity to hear him. The pupils of the high school and the students at the college have pledged 100% attendance which gives an indication of his popularity here.

BUREAU VITAL STATISTICS SHOWS NECESSITY OF BIRTH AND DEATH RECORDS

Besides the fact that it is the law that all births and deaths in Mississippi should be promptly recorded with the local registrars, it is well that our people should know the whys and the wherefores this procedure is necessary.

The Bureau of Vital Statistics is the State's Bookkeeping Department of the two greatest events in human life—Birth and Death. When your baby is born, the record of this event comes to this Bureau through the local registrar, and this record sheet is filed away and will be here a hundred years from today, in case no great calamity arises and destroys it. So with the death of your child, your mother, father, sister, brother or friend.

We have requests every day for certificated copies of births and deaths coming from mothers, fathers, ex-service men, lawyers, insurance companies, the school departments, and from many other sources and these requests will grow in number from day to day and from year to year.

Why should births be recorded?

1. To prove age and legitimacy of heirs.
2. To prove validity of contracts by alleged minor.
3. To establish age and citizenship and decent to vote.
4. To prove legal age to marry.
5. To prove claims of widows and orphans under widows' and orphans' pension laws.
6. As evidence in enforcement of education and child labor laws.
7. As evidence in the claim of exemption or right to jury and military service and many others.

Why should deaths be recorded?

1. The various items on death certificates supply valuable information to health officers in fighting disease.
2. This record assists in claims of settlements of property, life insurance, and other business relations.
3. Gives needed information relative to deceased.
4. Certified copies of death certificates are legal documents and are recognized in courts of law without question.
5. Death Certificates show the death rates in various counties for different periods and for different diseases.

6. Localities and even states are often maligned with reference to health conditions. Death records make it possible to disprove such charges, and many others.

Yours truly,
R. N. WHITFIELD, M. D.
Director, Bureau of Vital Statistics.

SCHOOL CODE WILL BE INTRODUCED IN HOUSE

Weekly News Letter from the State Department of Education, by W. F. Bond, Supt.

All of the school laws re-written, simplified, and arranged in logical order in the form of a school code will be introduced this year in the Lower House of the Mississippi Legislature. Public school trustees, teachers, lawyers, and the people generally are very much interested in seeing that the code is enacted into law at an early date.

If this code is passed it will be published in pamphlet form and distributed free to all those in need of it. The school law will then be in such shape as to be easily understood, and workable.

WELL-MERITED SUCCESS

A distinguished citizen, honored politically and professionally, Dr. R. V. Pierce, whose picture appears above, made a success few have equalled. His pure herbal remedies which have stood the test for fifty years are still among the "best sellers." Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a blood medicine and stomach alterative. It clears the skin, beautifies it, increases the blood supply and the circulation, and ripples and eruptions vanish quickly. Beauty is but skin deep and good blood is beneath both. For your blood to be good, your stomach must be in condition, your liver active. This Discovery of Doctor Pierce's puts you in fine condition, with all the organs active. Ask your nearest druggist for Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, in tablet or liquid form, or send 10 cents for trial package of tablets to Dr. Pierce's Invalids Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y.

An odd case of mixed species is described in the Illinois Central Magazine for January. The animal is a hybrid called a "rabbicot." His sire was a Belgian hare, and its dam a common tabby. The rabbicot resembles a puss in its head and forelegs, but has the characteristics of a rabbit in its tufted tail and hind-legs. Three of the rabbikittens were born. One died, and another was sold while small. The third, now well grown, remains with its strangely assorted parents at De Koven, Ky.
